Wisconsin Center for Academically Talented Youth

2007 - 2008

school/district membership

A wcaty membership will ...

Keep you informed of statewide programs for bright students, provide you with important information about current issues in gifted education and gain access to wcaty news and resource materials.

A wcaty school/district membership will connect you with schools throughout the state, wcaty staff, and statewide resources.

wcaty works with all 12 CESAs to better serve bright students statewide.

Why does my school need a wcaty membership?

Membership provides your school with gifted and talented resources, programs and connections that cannot be found elsewhere and helps plug your school into the GT community in Wisconsin.

wcaty mission:

The mission of the Wisconsin Center for Academically Talented Youth is to nurture Wisconsin's most academically talented students by providing and encouraging programs that support, motivate, and challenge them.

wcaty school/district membership benefits:

- Special offers and discounts to wcaty trainings and programs with wcaty and its partners:
 - College & Career Planning Seminar
This presentation focuses upon the unique needs of gifted students as they plan for college and beyond. Topics include earning college credit in high school (AP, Youth Options), career planning and college choices, standardized testing, the admissions process at selective schools and choosing a college that's a good fit.
 - wcaty Forum: Patching into a New Understanding of Learning Tools & Methodology
This forum focuses on building MOODLE courses; breakout sessions with online education experts; and incorporating role-playing and interactive learning into your classroom.
 - College/career workshop for parents or with CareerVision
CareerVision provides career services based on the Ball Aptitude Battery. They have developed a comprehensive career planning model that is grounded in theory and designed to meet the needs of the individual.
 - Educators' Institute
Each spring, wcaty hosts an educator workshop that focuses on issues and techniques in gifted education.
- School listing on the wcaty website and in the Postscript newsletter as a school member.
- Receive updates on wcaty, gifted education, partnership opportunities and resources available, including:
 - Postscript, wcaty newsletter, published three times a year, featuring student profiles, gifted education articles, and follow-up on wcaty events.
 - p.s. wcaty, monthly e-newsletter featuring up-to-the-minute updates on goings on throughout the state.
 - wcaty media relations packet will guide you through the process of publicizing your partnership with wcaty and projects your school is involved in.
- Free copy of the wcaty College Planning Guide. Prospective college students can use this guide to help navigate the path to higher education in Wisconsin. Includes a focus on the unique nature of the college experience for gifted and talented students.
- wcaty's Academic Enrichment Programs & Competitions for Gifted Students in Wisconsin. This publication outlines opportunities and resources available to bright students.

(Discounts based on school/district size. Please contact wcaty for more information.)
